

DUTCH AIRLINER DISAPPEARS; 23 ABOARD

Plane Hits Power Line, Crashes; 11 Killed

Accident Breaks Safety Record of Braniff Airways

Pilot Sought Safe
Landing in Storm;
8 Others Injured

MASON CITY, Iowa (UP)—Eleven persons were killed and eight were injured Sunday night when a half-battered Braniff Airways plane, searching for a landing, snapped a power line and crashed into an outfield.

The DC3, flying from Memphis, Tenn., to Minneapolis, Minn., with 19 persons aboard, ran into a violent wind, rain and hail storm near this northern Iowa city.

The pilot, William Pickering, radioed that he would try to skirt the storm and make a landing. But minutes later, the plane smashed to earth, flipped over, and strewn wreckage over an area equal to two square blocks.

The plane did not burn, probably preventing a higher death toll.

The crash broke a 15-year old Braniff record of 3,500,000,000 passenger miles flown without a fatal crash. The last, and only other, time a Braniff crash has claimed lives was at Oklahoma City, Okla., in 1939. Four persons were killed.

Pilot, Co-Pilot Killed

Included among the dead in Sunday night's crash were Pickering, 40, Parkville, Mo., and the co-pilot, W. B. Wilde, 31, Excelsior, Minn.

The stewardess, Bettie Ann Truly of Shreveport, La., escaped and was believed to have been one of the two women who stepped from the wreckage and wandered from the scene in a daze.

Farmers swarmed to the crashed plane to free the injured passengers. They used acetylene torches to cut through twisted metal as some of the victims cried, "Get us out."

The injured were taken to hospitals here and at Hampton, Iowa. Doctors said they were too badly hurt or shaken up to be questioned about the smashup. Three were reported critically hurt.

Farmers Hear Crash

Mrs. Leo Jones, who lives nearby, said she heard "a big crash," but thought it at first was another thunderclap. The family went out to investigate, however, and came upon the crashed plane.

"There were two girls, one of them probably the stewardess, wandering around in a daze," she said. "It was raining and hailing."

A farmer, Jim Atkinson of near Sheffield, Iowa, picked up the two women and took them to the home of Harold Marquardt, on whose farm the plane crashed. One of the women, Mrs. Marquardt said, sat silent while the other kept calling out, "We've got to hurry."

Rescue workers found the plane's nose buried in the ground and its fuselage and right wing smashed. Ten bodies were found among the mangled steel and an 11th person died later at Hampton Hospital.

A temporary morgue was set up in a school gymnasium near the crash scene.

Four Arrested For Speeding

Four motorists were arrested on speeding charges over the weekend, Chief of Police Loren Travelstead reported today.

He said one was arrested on South Granger, one on North Main, another on East Poplar and the fourth near the Dorrisville housing project.

Travelstead also reported a collision which occurred at 3:40 a. m. Sunday on West Poplar at Herbert street, in which a truck and a car collided. Police said there were no injuries.

The chief also said he had been receiving increasing complaints from motorists that many approaching cars were failing to dim their lights and that autos were failing to come to a halt at stop signs.

Both are violations of the law, he said, and violators are subject to fines if caught.

Four Killed, 37 Hurt in Crash of Santa Fe Chief

LOMAX, Ill. (UP)—Four persons were killed and 37 were injured when the swank Santa Fe "Chief" left the rails and crashed into refrigerator cars on a siding.

The crack Chicago to Los Angeles streamliner was derailed Sunday just east of this Mississippi river town, and 12 of the 13 cars went off the track. Only the diesel engine and the mail car stayed on the right-of-way, sideswiping refrigerator cars on an adjoining track, and knocking several of them off.

A Santa Fe spokesman said that the first chair car, which contained the dead and most of the injured, received the most damage.

Rescuers used torches to cut into the car to remove the trapped victims.

The spokesman said that one person of the 37 injured was in serious condition, but some who suffered slight injuries were treated and released. Those hospitalized were in Burlington and Ft. Madison, Iowa and Carthage, Ill.

Santa Fe headquarters in Chicago blamed the crash on a broken equalizer on the rear truck of the forward lounge car.

All available ambulances and doctors were summoned to Lomax, where nearby communities in Illinois and Iowa when the accident occurred.

Dozens of the 235 passengers were treated at the scene for minor injuries. Officials said there was "pandemonium" immediately after the accident as passengers mingled dazed and confused, along the track. But the situation quieted later.

Uninjured Resume Trip

The railroad identified two of the dead as:

Edward Monty, 39, Honolulu, T. H.

Mrs. Gina Guilfi, about 50, Albuquerque, N. M.

The names of the two other victims were not revealed.

A passenger, Marine Lt. Ervin Ellis of Washington, D. C., said he heard the grinding and screeching of wheels, and "then people fell every which way. The car was full of falling baggage and screaming people."

W. Black of Los Angeles said he was sleeping when the derailment occurred. The next thing he knew, he said, "I was hit in the head with a suitcase and was thrown to the end of the car."

Airman Robert H. Humphrey of Galva, Ill., said, "The first thing I knew, I was standing on my head."

Marine Sgt. Bill Szendrock of New York City, on his way to Camp Pendleton, Calif., said he went "flying down the aisle and ended up on my back."

Within five hours, a Santa Fe spokesman said, all the uninjured passengers had resumed their trip on another train.

Another satisfied Daily Register classified ad user is Truman Proctor, 302 West Church street, Sahara 7 mine engineer, who has occupied himself during a summer of idleness at the mine by raising pheasants.

The birds, of which there are 90, reached "eating size" this week and an ad in Friday's Daily Register classified section brought several pheasant hungry customers to the Proctor door.

VACATION TIME—Speaker of the House Joseph Martin pounds his gavel signaling adjournment of the House of Representatives as page boys let fly with papers and cheers. Some three hours later the Senate closed shop to bring the curtain down on the Republican 83rd Congress. Two Youths Granted Probation, Prohibited from Driving for Year

Court Action Taken
After Two Women
Terrified on Rt. 45

Two Eldorado youths who terrified two Indianapolis women driving through Saline county at 1:30 o'clock in the morning were granted probation today upon their pleas of guilty but they cannot drive automobiles during the next year.

If they drive or violate the terms of their one-year probations in any way, County Judge Ralph W. Choiser told them, they will automatically go to the state farm at Vandalia for terms of one year.

Bill Long, 17, one of the pair, pleaded guilty to a charge of impersonating an officer. The other, John Massey, 18, entered his plea of guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

Reported to State Patrolman

The two are charged with stopping Miss Shirley E. Harring and Miss Syble Qualls, both 26-year-old Indianapolis women, on Route 45 between Eldorado and Harrisburg at 1:30 a. m. Thursday by blocking the road as the women were driving through at night on a brief vacation trip into the South.

State Police Roy A. Lane, who arrested the two, said that he was stationed at the Rates 45-13 intersection in East Harrisburg when the car across the highway to him around 2 a. m. and told him what had happened. They were so terrified that they were still shaking, he stated.

They said that a car tried to force them off the highway three times, and when unsuccessful, sped ahead of them and blocked the car across the highway to turn them from going further.

Locked Car from Inside

When they had to stop, they continued, one of the four in the car came over to their auto and said he was an officer. They raised their car windows and locked the car from the inside, they said, and Long tried to open the door by using the handle.

When the car left, they said, they continued on to Harrisburg where they saw Lane parked at the intersection. They had taken the car's license number, they declared, and gave it to Lane. Lane radioed and found out who owned the car from state police headquarters.

He said that Lane pulled out to the Eldorado address the car drove into the Mitchell service station driveway.

Hurrying over to the car, Lane said, he began questioning four youths in the machine and for a long time they denied any part in the incident, but finally admitted that Massey was driving the car and that Long was the one who represented himself as an officer.

The other two boys had nothing to do with it, they said.

In court today Long pleaded guilty to impersonating the officer, at one time in his testimony in open court saying that Roy Aud of Norris City, one of the boys in the car, was the instigator of the act, and at another time saying that he had been working with Eldorado Police Chief George Brown in running down traffic violators.

Massey, when arraigned, said it was Long's idea. Massey, it was stated, recently was arrested on a reckless driving charge in Gallatin county.

In giving them probation and denying them driving privileges for one year or go to Vandalia for the breaking of the terms of the probation, Judge Choiser also assessed court costs of $25.30 against each of them.

W. R. Burell Rites At Eldorado Tuesday

Funeral services for William R. Burell, retired coal miner whose home was in Eldorado and who died Saturday morning, will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Martin funeral home where the body now lies in state.

Rev. H. T. Little will officiate, and burial will be in Wolf Creek cemetery.

Sen. Gore Hits 'Close Liaison' In Power Deal

Claims Publication
Of Documents Raises
More Questions

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Albert Gore said today records of the controversial Dixon-Yates power deal indicated a "close liaison" between the Budget Bureau and "the power trust."

The Tennessee Democrat said publication of the documents "raised more questions than it answered and deepened the mystery" surrounding the proposed multi-million dollar government contract.

He charged that the contract was "a crass favoritism and misuse of the public trust."

At President Eisenhower's decision, the Budget Bureau and Atomic Energy Commission released a 132-page record Saturday of the steps leading up to the contract.

It was made public to answer charges of "scandal" brought by National Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

Scores Time Lapse

Gore, bitter critic of the proposal which he says is designed to hamper the Tennessee Valley Authority, called it "remarkable" that four days elapsed between Mr. Eisenhower's invitation to the newsmen to inspect the documents and their publication.

"I wonder if the four days were consumed in the process of digging out or covering up," Gore told a reporter. "I don't know who has influenced whom, but from the records thus far disclosed, it would seem a close liaison existed between the Budget Bureau and the power trust."

Under the proposed contract, the AEC would buy 600,000 kilowatts of power annually for 25 years from the Dixon-Yates syndicate, which would build a new $107,250,000 steam plant at West Memphis, Ark. The power would be delivered into the TVA system to "replace" like amount of TVA power used by the AEC.

President Ordered Negotiation

The records released Saturday showed that the proposal was first suggested by former Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge last December. It was strongly opposed by the TVA and by two of the five AEC members; and that it was finally negotiated on direct orders from President Eisenhower after GOP congressional leaders unanimously supported the plan.

Mitchell suggested in a speech last week that the White House "favored" Dixon-Yates because Mr. Eisenhower's close friend, golfer Bobby Jones, is a director of one of the two private utilities in the syndicate. The President flatly denied this. Mitchell also said the government could have saved 140 million dollars by getting the power from TVA and up to 90 million dollars by accepting the offer of another private combine that sought the contract.

30 Airmen Arrested at Chanute Base as Terrorist Gang Suspects

CHANUTE AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (UP)—Thirty young airmen, suspected of belonging to a vicious terrorist gang which is noted for murder, rape and narcotics addiction, were under arrest today.

Col. Grover Wilson, commanding officer of the technical group at Chanute, said the youths were believed to be members of the Pacheco gang, and were being questioned by officials about "lawlessness" and acts of violence.

He said members of the gang signed a pledge in blood to obey the laws of Pacheco, and the airmen were seized on suspicion of marijuana addiction and of knife assaults on those who violated their code.

Major Gen. B. E. Gates, commanding general at Chanute, requested assistance from the police department at Los Angeles, where the Pacheco terrorist society is believed to have originated. Lt. Robert D. Whitley, chief of the juvenile division of the Los Angeles police, flew to the Air Force base and was assigned to help the provost marshal in interrogation of the airmen.

Whitley said that Pacheco members carved a sign, similar to a cross, on their bodies or hands.

The entire Chanute personnel stood a "shakedown" inspection Saturday. The men were ordered to strip to the waist and some 175 were found with "unexplained marks or tattoos," or were carrying switch-blade knives. After questioning most were released, but 30 were placed under arrest.

Whitley said the Pacheco gang first became known in Los Angeles, and resembled the "zoot suit" mobs of the 1940s. Members were originally of Mexican descent, but the organization spread rapidly and there are now many "chapters," he said.

The men seized at Chanute were "young toughs of all nationalities," he said, and did not appear to belong to any particular race or background.

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The germ of violence that gave birth to the "pacheco" gang, also called the "zoot suit" and "rat pack" gang, first spawned on the impoverished east side of Los Angeles.

Average Income Totals $1,709, Gov't Reports

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Commerce Department reported Sunday night that the average income for each man, woman and child in the United States jumped 4 per cent last year to a record $1,709.

The department arrived at this per capita figure by dividing the total population into the gross national income for 1953 which, at $270,577,000,000, also set a record and was 6 per cent higher than the 1952 total.

Per capita income topped $2,000 in nine states and the District of Columbia, which had an average of $2,109. The nine states include Illinois, $2,088, and Michigan, $2,003.

In only four states was total personal income lower last year than in 1952—Idaho, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. Income in the four predominantly agricultural states declined 3 per cent.

Largest increase—ranging from 9 to 12 per cent—were reported in Michigan, Florida, South Dakota, Ohio, Indiana and Nevada.

U. S. May End
Occupation
If EDC Killed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States and Britain will move quickly to end the nine-year occupation of West Germany if France fails to approve the European Army plan next week, diplomatic officials said today.

Anxious State Department officials plan to sit tight while the French Assembly debates the fate of the six-nation army proposal. But the United States is almost certain to begin its promised "agonizing reappraisal" of its European policy if France rejects or postpones a vote on the army plan.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles never has spelled out the details of that reappraisal. Congress, however, has authorized an end to the American occupation, clearing the way for West German rearmament as part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if the European Army idea is junked.

German Buildup Geared

A German buildup has been France's major objection to the European Defense Community Treaty. Yet President Eisenhower and Dulles were said to believe that by rejecting the pact, France would be throwing away a grand opportunity for European unity with control over German rearming.

Diplomats here said a "situation of great gravity" has been created by collapse of the Brussels conference over revision in EDC proposed by French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

An administration spokesman said Sunday that the state department is planning no moves to pressure France into ratification of EDC while the vital debate is going on. The debate is scheduled to start Saturday with a showdown vote expected Sept. 1.

President's Promise Recalled

However, it was recalled that Mr. Eisenhower has promised to keep American troops in Europe if EDC is ratified as an inducement to French approval.

U. S. spokesmen also did not rule out the possibility that special Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, who sought vainly to arrange a compromise at Brussels, might be called home to advise the President and Dulles on the latest crisis.

A highly placed U. S. official said Mendes-France has it in his power to deliver a killing blow to the European Defense Community. But he said the administration still hopes the French will ratify the long stalled plan.

Report Plane In Collision Over Coast

9 to 12 Americans
Included Among
The Passengers

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (UP)—A KLM Royal Dutch airliner with 23 persons, including 9 to 12 Americans, disappeared 19 minutes from its destination today.

One report said the plane crashed after colliding with an unidentified transport over the Dutch coast.

The KLM DC6B was on a flight from New York to Amsterdam with a stop-over at Shannon, Ireland.

KLM officials in New York said that the following American passengers were aboard the plane:

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Pepper, Woodhaven, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yarrow, and two children, Woodbury, Conn.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Decker, Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. Leonard Jamison, Miami, Fla.

Two passengers identified only by the name of O'Riordan, boarded the plane at Shannon and officials said they might be Americans.

Believe Captain an American

KLM in Amsterdam said there were only two Americans aboard the plane but admitted they had a partial list. They said that the plane's pilot, Capt. Charles Harmon, also is believed to be an American.

Scheveningen Dutch Coastal Radio reported the fishing vessel Trexel had sighted a life raft and some floating buoys and packages in the North Sea 16 to 17 miles west of Ijmuiden, Holland.

Authorities at Shannon said that they heard the plane collided in a rainstorm with an unidentified DC3 near Ijmuiden, on the Dutch coast.

The reports to the Dutch Coastal Radio did not mention survivors.

The pilot boat Bellatrix radioed that it had found white cushions with the KLM mark on them floating in the North Sea area where the plane is believed to have crashed.

Seven of the eight passengers who disembarked at Shannon on the stop-over were Americans. They were identified by airport officials as: Glen Farley, William Grogg, Mary Kelleher, Richard and Alice McAllester, Elizabeth Milligan and Ursula Donahue.

The other passenger to leave the plane was identified as Mary Mulmarke, of Ireland.

British Royal Air Force search planes aiding in the hunt for the missing airliner were called back when the British authorities heard that KLM cushions had been found.

The British had aided the Dutch Navy and air force in sweeping the sea where the plane disappeared when it was almost within gliding distance of the Dutch coast.

$800.05 Collected By Legion, VFW 'Pitch for Polio'

A total of $800.05 was collected Saturday for the emergency polio funds campaign in the "pitch for polio" sponsored by the American Legion and V. F. W. posts of Harrisburg.

Tubs were set up on the square and also at the intersection of Routes 13 and 45, with passing motorists being requested to "pitch for polio" and the response was indeed gratifying.

Representatives from the two veterans organizations were out at 6 a. m. Saturday and remained on the job throughout the day.

A. M. Hetherington, chairman of the Saline County chapter, Infantile Paralysis, reported today he had received two donations for the fund, $25 from the Seton Furniture company and $10 from the Russler Plumbing company. Anyone wishing to mail contributions should address them to Polio E, their local post office.

The special emergency campaign for funds will continue through this week. Two special programs are scheduled for Harrisburg, a coffee at Nick's cafe Tuesday, and an auction, sponsored by the Lions club, from the north porch of the court house Thursday night, starting about 7:30.

Election Issues

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Not for a month or more can we be sure of the final line-up of issues on which the fall congressional elections will turn. Yet even now some things stand out.

The signing of the Indo-China truce in late July was a matter of prime significance for American politics. The truce was a defeat for the West, but it is unlikely to be a defeat for the reigning Republican Party. For it means avoidance of American involvement in Indo-China, a thing which at one time seemed imminent. And that escape can only be beneficial at the polls.

Placed side by side with the Korean truce gained a year ago, this development casts the GOP in the voters' minds as a party capable of extricating the country from military entanglements—or keeping it out of them.

Exactly how much responsibility the Republicans had for the two truce decisions is not what counts. What matters is whom the voters will credit.

These actions probably will far overshadow any other developments in the foreign field. Indeed, a voter could be forgiven for having a hard time distinguishing between the predecessor Democratic foreign policy and much of that expounded by the GOP.

Domestically, the biggest issue could have been the state of the economy. If the downspin of late 1953 and early 1954 had continued apace, the Democrats might have figured to walk in. But the declining business curve appears to have leveled off. Unemployment now takes an unexpected dip, the hurt to the Republicans is not likely to be severe.

High unemployment and low economic activity evidently will be marked in certain regions, however, and particular congressional contests may be sharply affected.

Last year at this time, the political sagas would have sworn the issue of farm prices was destined to be crucial in the 1954 elections. Now they cannot be certain. Congressional support for President Eisenhower's flexible price support plan has proved substantial, and this may indicate that many farmers slowly have been won over to the seeming wisdom of the President's and Secretary of Agriculture Benson's plan.

Still, it must be said that the farm issue is important, and control of Congress could hinge on what happens in a few key mid-western states.

The broader matters of the President's general legislative program—including tax revision, improved social security, the St. Lawrence seaway—and the degree of effectiveness of his leadership surely will weigh a considerable amount in many voters' minds.

Conversely, the voters will place a measure on the Democratic leadership in Congress, which has often supported the President though generally perhaps for more selfish reasons than would be immediately clear. Many will be saying at the polls whether or not they like the Democrats' version of "responsible government."

The tangled questions of McCarthyism and communism in government may figure more strongly than current measure now suggests. Polls do not put communism in government high on the voters' list of issues.

But Senator McCarthy's approach to the problem is extremely controversial, and is bound up with judgment of the President's leadership. Events of the next few weeks could project this to the center of the stage.

Nowhere in this preliminary catalogue does there appear to be an issue or a series of issues so powerful as to have really sweeping impact at the polls. If such exists, it is still sleeping quietly.

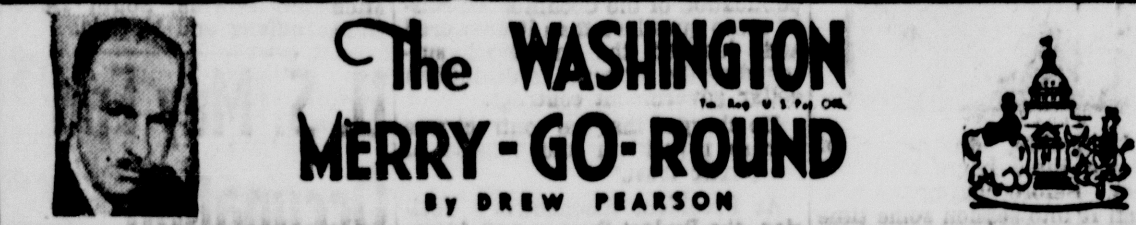

Old Food

Milk is one of the oldest known foods. Records exist of cows being milked in 9000 B. C., and Sanskrit writings 5000 years old tell how milk was one of the most essential of all foods.

Finally Named

The White House was not so designated until 1902. First it was called the President's Palace, then the "President's House" and later, the Executive Mansion.

The Faith That Moves Mountains

DREW PEARSON Says: Eisenhower Displays Increasing Skill As Another Congress Comes To An End; Gains Political Prestige. While His Leaders Lose Face; Time Confirms Bradley-Acheson Conviction Re Chiang.

WASHINGTON. — Most important development to come out of the current session of Congress was not the legislation passed but the education of Dwight D. Eisenhower. He has now learned the techniques of being President.

He went into the first session of Congress more than a year ago, nervous, ill-at-ease, dubious about his job. He now knows how Congress works, how to crack the whip, how to push a program through despite opposition.

He knows how to stay back in the general headquarters tent and let the lieutenants slug it out in the first line trenches. This was something Franklin Roosevelt knew how to do to perfection, but which Harry Truman never learned. Truman could never resist going into battle himself, almost seemed to relish getting his nose bloodied. He never let his cabinet members take the punishment for him. Ike does.

Some of Ike's leaders have been so battered and bruised that their political future is dubious. But the Gallup poll shows Eisenhower's rating is still in the upper brackets. Senator Knowland has been so tough, has aroused so much resentment that he may be ditched at the next Congress. Congressman Halleck in the House cracked the whip so hard some of his Republican colleagues hate him. The President was able to stay aloof, unsullied.

Most important lesson Eisenhower learned was what every lawyer knows: "Collect your fee while your client's tears are hot." He failed to collect his fee in the first session of Congress last year when his popularity was at its height and his power over Congress at its peak. Instead of collecting he let Congress adjourn last summer after passing only the refugee immigration bill.

When Congressman Robert Corbett and James Fulton of Pennsylvania, both Republicans, failed to support Summerfield's postage stamp increase bill, a traveling post office hatched man named Gerald Cullinan turned up in their districts to apply the pressure on the voters back home.

Other non-conforming congressmen were hauled down to Summerfield's office. Congressman Joe Eans of Tennessee was told to vote "right" or expect no help on a mail transportation problem in his district. And when Congressman Otto Passman of Louisiana signed a discharge petition to force the postal pay boost bill out of the Rules committee over Summerfield's head, an unusual thing happened in New Orleans.

Summerfield had fired the postmaster of New Orleans, A. Frank Fairley, who happened to be a good friend of Congressman Passman's. But, believe it or not, when Passman agreed to take his name off the petition to force a vote on the postal pay bill, Postmaster Fairley was reinstated.

Such were the tactics used in one of the roughest, toughest sessions of Congress Washington has seen in this century. Ike got his program through and he learned the Rooseveltian technique of keeping himself aloof, but the enemies made by these rough and tumble tactics may seriously affect the coming elections.

It is funny how times change. If you look backward at the newspaper headlines of three years ago, they were splashing barrels of ink over the firing of General Douglas MacArthur because he had urged that Chiang Kai-Shek's troops be sent to fight in Korea. When MacArthur wrote a letter to Speaker Joe Martin about this, Truman fired him.

In addition, various cabinet members backed up the battery. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was chief backstage wire-puller in passing the St. Lawrence seaway, while Postmaster General Summerfield took the prize as heaved-handed.

When Congressman Robert Corbett and James Fulton of Pennsylvania, both Republicans, failed to support Summerfield's postage stamp increase bill, a traveling post office hatched man named Gerald Cullinan turned up in their districts to apply the pressure on the voters back home.

IT HAPPENED IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS: Luck Indications Once Prevalent

By John W. Allen Southern Illinois University

Are you down in your luck? If so, the following bits of folklore relating to good and bad fortune may be helpful. However, no guarantee, expressed or implied, is offered that they will yield beneficial results. At the very least, though, they should prove interesting, perhaps amusing.

According to this body of lore there are many ways in which one's luck may be improved. Some of these means are naturally more convenient and adaptable than others. For instance, one can not always bite the head off a butterfly, find a four-leaf clover and eat it or put it in the left shoe. Neither can one easily find a horseshoe, nor dream of radishes or clear water. One cannot always see the new moon in a perfectly clear sky with no tree limbs in the way, and over the left shoulder while holding money in the hand. The distressed in fortune cannot always so much as glimpse a two-headed calf.

Rabbit's Foot

With such apparent handicaps, perhaps it would be best to concentrate upon some one recognized and potent device, a rabbit's foot, for instance. Even this should not be done in a haphazard manner. Most important, it must be the left hind foot of the rabbit. Even this left hind foot may have varying degrees of potency. To wield its greatest influence it should come from a rabbit killed on a Friday night during the dark of the moon and in a graveyard. Even then its power is greater if the rabbit is killed near the hour of midnight. If killed at midnight, the holder can "work the rabbit's foot" on almost any unsuspecting person.

Loss Portends Misfortune

Even the most potent rabbit's foot is rendered less powerful in various ways. If a rabbit going to the right hops across the path of the traveler the magical power of the charm is lessened, that is, unless the traveler also turns to the right, pauses and spits over his left shoulder. Should a rabbit, approaching from either the right or left in a manner to indicate that it intends to cross the pathway and then turns abruptly back, it indicates a tendency toward misfortune. A rabbit crossing to the left over a traveler's pathway naturally strengthens the potency of the charm.

There is apparently no particular manner in which the rabbit's foot is to be carried. At first it was naturally carried in the pocket. When pockets became scarce or overstuffed it was sometimes carried on a watch fob, a key ring or even on a necklace. No difference in its power is apparent, whatever the manner in which it is carried. The loss of a rabbit's foot, however, is a portent of misfortune.

Buckeye

Those who might fear the loss of a rabbit's foot can somewhat safeguard against such misfortune by also carrying a buckeye. This buckeye, in addition to wielding a general influence for good, is also effective in warding off rheumatism. For this purpose, however, it is not so effective as a potato that has been carried in the pocket until it is thoroughly dried out and shrunken to almost stone-like hardness.

The good fortune of a traveler is helped very much if he finds a horseshoe, picks it up, spits upon it and tosses it over the left shoulder. In the event the finder does not wish to spit upon the horseshoe, he can hang it on the fence with equal good effects. Naturally the luck of the finder is greater if the caulk of the horseshoe are toward him when he makes his discovery. If the traveler finds only a part of the horseshoe, he should consider it an indication of approaching bad luck. The finding of a rusty horseshoe nail, particularly if the point is toward the finder, presages good luck. If the finder will only pause, place his foot on the pin and make a wish, good fortune is even more assured.

Other Indications

In the event a traveler does not find a horseshoe, a horseshoe nail, or even a dress pin, he can compensate for the failure to do so by finding other things. A piece of black ribbon, a penny, two pos-

Pankeyville Baptist Naomi Ruth Class Meets

The Naomi Ruth Sunday school class of the Pankeyville Baptist church met Friday night at the home of Mrs. Nancy Sadler for the regular class social.

The meeting was opened with group singing, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," followed with prayer by Mrs. Blanche Shacklett.

Miss Gertrude Wasson gave the devotion, reading from Ephesians the fourth chapter, bringing out the thought that the true artist aims at perfection. "He may never attain it but that remains his goal. The real test of one's character does not depend so much upon the place he occupies but upon the direction in which he is traveling," she said.

Mrs. Hattie Moyer, present teacher of the class, has been elected by the church to teach again this coming year. During the business session a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Alta Norman, Mrs. Ruth Gates and Mrs. Blanche Lauderdale was appointed to select the other class officers and announce them at the next business meeting at which time the remainder of the officers will be elected.

The group was delighted to welcome Mrs. Mary Shell back to the social as a visitor. Mrs. Shell was a member of the class until recently when she and her husband moved from Pankeyville.

Mrs. Sadler assisted by her three youngsters, Gary, Steven and Karen, served delicious refreshments.

Five Children Burn to Death as Fire Destroys Home

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP)—A flash fire roared through a two-story home here today and took the lives of five small children despite efforts of neighbors and their father to rescue them.

The children, ranging in age from 15 months to 7 years, were found huddled on the second floor of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vason.

The victims were identified by police as:

Patricia 7, Daniel 6, Judith 5, Stephen 3 and Ann 15 months.

The baby died in her crib. The bodies of the four older children were found huddled in a bedroom corner.

Police said the fire apparently started from a chimney backfire. The father suffered face and hand burns in trying to get upstairs before he was forced to run for his life.

The children's mother was working at the Lockwood textile mill when the fire broke out.

Non-Operating Rail Workers Receive Wage Settlement

CHICAGO (AP)—An agreement climaxing year-long negotiations will give 200,000 railroad workers longer vacations, holiday pay and a welfare plan.

The settlement was reached here Saturday after a 24-hour session between railroad representatives and officials of 14 "non-operating" rail unions.

Terms of the settlement were similar to those proposed by a fact-finding board appointed by President Eisenhower last May.

The settlement includes: Hospital, medical and surgical benefits paid for jointly by the railroads and the employees.

Three-week vacations for employees with 15 years of service, who formerly got only two weeks.

Pay for seven holidays.

A spokesman for the nation's railroads said the settlement would cost the roads 140 million dollars a year.

The employees who will benefit include clerks, telegraphers, and yard, maintenance and construction workers.

Polio Cases Show Sharp Decline in Downstate Areas

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Polio cases have declined sharply in downstate Illinois this year but are up in the Chicago area, the state Public Health department said today.

The department said it was "gratifying" to note that on a statewide basis, the number of cases as the polio "season" nears its midpoint is "markedly lower" than in 1953.

Nationally, the number of cases from April 1 to Aug. 14 was down 8.7 per cent from 1953. In Illinois, the reduction in the same period was 36.6 per cent, the department said.

In downstate Illinois, the report listed a 45.2 per cent cut. But in the Greater Chicago area, there were increases.

These increases were 24.5 per cent in Chicago; 62.3 per cent in Cook County outside Chicago, and 30.4 per cent in nearby Dupage County.

Witness Claims Red Bishop Is Informer; Ilona Massey Tells of Family Sufferings

NEW YORK (AP)—A witness at a congressional hearing on Communist aggression charged today that Bishop John Peter, a Hungarian delegate to the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., is a Communist informer.

The witness, the Rev. Laszlo Vatai, escaped from Communist-run Hungary in 1947 and now is pastor of the Hungarian reformed Church of Buffalo, N. Y.

He appeared before a special House subcommittee on Communist aggression after actress Ilona Massey, with tears in her eyes, had described her poverty-stricken Hungarian childhood and the sufferings of her family under a later Communist government.

Eyes Filled With Tears

Miss Massey, who has been in the United States since 1937, recalled her own sufferings, at the age of 7, under a brief Communist regime in 1919.

Her eyes filled with tears as she told how a 14-year-old cousin was ravished by a Russian soldier who found her hiding in a haystack, and became the mother of a child whose father she never saw again.

Miss Massey, an exotic blonde, was the first witness before the special congressional subcommittee.

Miss Massey told the congressmen she had never tasted meat until she was 7 years old. "It seemed I never had enough to eat; I never had anything to wear; I was always dirty and bedraggled," she said.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), chairman of the committee, asked the Rev. Vatai if Bishop Peter had not been picked by the Communists as a council delegate because he was an informer.

Contradict Delegate's Statement

The Rev. Vatai said he was. He said four others of the Hungarian delegation, three of them bishops, were chosen because of their willingness to collaborate with the Red Hungarian government.

Rep. E. J. Bonin (R-Pa.) then read from a report by the U. S. Information Service which stated that the Hungarian government sought to liquidate its churches. He said this was in direct contradiction with a statement by Bishop Peter that freedom of religion exists in Hungary and other satellite countries.

"I think somebody is lying—either the U. S. Information Service or Bishop Peter," Bonin said. He asked the chairman for permission to investigate the source of the information to find out who was telling the truth.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Bishop John Peter, delegate to the World Council of Churches from Communist Hungary, said today he could not properly be called a Communist, but that Communism and Christianity can co-exist.

Bishop Peter, of the Reformed Church of Hungary, answered in writing numerous questions submitted in writing by newsmen to the Council's press committee.

Bishop Peter, accused by some as a Soviet agent, answered in writing because restrictions placed on his visit by the U. S. State Department apparently preclude him from holding a news conference.

The clergy answered on behalf of the Hungarian delegation, but he said he was speaking personally.

Attend Meeting Of Parents' Groups at Paris

A picnic meeting and conference for southeastern Illinois parent groups were held Sunday at the Sunrise Park in Paris, Ill. Groups present were from Paris, Danville, Champaign, Mt. Vernon, Mattoon, Salem, Saline county and Terre Haute, Ind.

Attending from Saline county were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Black, Carrier Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Dudley, Harrisburg. Mrs. Dudley is president of Saline Association and Mrs. Black, secretary.

Following the meal Leopold Lippman, public relations man who has been employed by the N. A. R. C. headquarters for an initial period of four months, was the speaker. His exclusive job now through November is on the National Retarded Children's Week program. He comes from the state of Washington where for the past several years he has been executive director of the State Association for Retarded Children.

He told of the plans to be used in fund raising campaigns and showed samples of literature, posters, cards, etc., that will be available for the N. R. C. W. campaign.

The Saline county association is planning to cooperate with the National Association for Retarded Children's Week which will be in November.

Carrier Mills Grade Schools Will Open Wednesday, Sept. 1

The Carrier Mills grade schools will open Wednesday, Sept. 1, but pupils will remain at school only a few hours the first day and will be released in plenty of time to return home before the lunch hour, Delbert Waller, principal, announced today.

All pupils entering the first or fifth grades are to bring their health and dental examination certificates and pupils entering kindergarten and the first grade will bring birth certificates.

To enter the first grade a child must reach its sixth birthday before Jan. 1, 1955, and kindergarten pupils must be five years of age before the first of the year.

Other information released by Mr. Waller reveals that book rentals have been established at $3.50 for kindergarten through the sixth grades and at $4 for the seventh and eighth grades; text books will be issued registration day to those making rental deposits; the buses will follow the same schedules as established last year; the school lunch program will be in operation Thursday, Sept. 2 and the cost has been set at $1.25 per week per pupil.

Mr. Waller has called a meeting of all members of the Carrier Mills grade school faculty to be held at the Central school Tuesday, Aug. 31, at 1 p. m.

Pilots List 3 Conditions for Airline Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—American Airlines prepared today to resume operations Wednesday under a "truce" signed Sunday night with its AFL pilots who agreed to end their three-week strike pending a final settlement of the dispute.

Union spokesmen and company officials met with federal mediators in an effort to reach agreement on three conditions the pilots insisted must be met before they start flying again, even temporarily.

A hitch in any of the three could delay the back-to-work move, but mediation officials predicted speedy agreement on the conditions by both sides. Union sources privately agreed.

Union Lists Conditions

These were the conditions C. M. Sayen, president of the Airlines Pilots Association, emphasized still must be worked out.

1. A copy of the back to work agreement, specifying which pilots will fly the first ships.

2. An amendment in the company-union contract, guaranteeing that pilots will not be required to fly routes over eight hours, except a west-bound non-stop transcontinental flight.

3. Agreement on a "neutral" referee to recommend a solution to all points in dispute between the company and the union.

The west-bound flight, which takes a scheduled eight hours and 35 minutes, has been the heart of the controversy. The pilots contend that more than eight hours of continuous flying is not safe.

Smith said the company's suit against the union "is not affected by the settlement." The company sued the union for one million dollars punitive damages and $250,000 a day for the extent of the strike.

Blind Belleville Woman Named to Normal Faculty

NORMAL, Ill. (AP)—A young Belleville woman who has been blind since she was 13 has been named to the faculty of Illinois State Normal university.

The school announced Saturday that Miss Dolores Lauf will become a faculty assistant in ISNU's new program for blind children, effective Sept. 1. She will help train teachers and will work with blind children in the university's laboratory school.

Miss Lauf has bachelor's and master's degrees in education from ISNU. She attended grade school at Belleville and got her high school diploma at the Illinois School for the Blind, Jacksonville.

Dr. E. C. Cline, supervisor of the state division of vocational rehabilitation, called Miss Lauf "an outstanding example of what an earnest student with exceptional ability can accomplish in her chosen field."

"In the case of any exceptional student the matter of whether there is a physical handicap or not is of little consequence," Cline said. "It is ability that counts."

Martin Van Buren was the first President of the United States to be born an American citizen.

Nixon, Dirksen, Rep. Simpson to Lead Workshop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee announced Sunday night that Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Penn.) will lead a three-day campaign "Workshop Meeting" at Cincinnati next week.

GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall said, "We are determined to wage a fair fight on fundamental issues, despite certain of our opponents' recent efforts to inject outrageous personality smear tactics into the campaign."

Nixon will participate in executive sessions of the conference Sept. 1. Dirksen and Simpson, who are chairmen of the Republican Senatorial and Congressional committees, will discuss activities of their two groups at "shirt-sleeve" conferences Aug. 30 and 31.

All the hard-surfaced roads in the United States of 1900 would not have reached from New York to Boston.

BITTER SAGE

By Frank Gruber

Copyright 1954 by Frank Gruber

THE STORY: Luke Miller's fight to abolish lawlessness in Sage City has brought open warfare with Jacob Fugger, who rules the town. Fugger sends his henchman, Bill Bleek, to commit vandalism on Miller's newspaper. Wes Tancered, known in Sage City as John Bailey, wrecks Fugger's store in return. The result is a terrific fist battle between Tancered and Bleek and for the first time Bleek is beaten. Undismayed, the unscrupulous Fugger sends Laura Vesser, pretty clerk in his store, to bring Tancered to him. Laura is an old friend of Tancered's and is the only person in Sage City who knows his real name is not John Bailey.

XVI
Tancered took off his shop apron and put on his coat. He left the shop and walked to Fugger's store. "I got your message," he told Jacob Fugger. "How are you?" Tancered made a small, impatient gesture, to dismiss the trivialities and to indicate that Fugger should get down to the subject. "They tell me you're a good man, Bailey," Fugger said.

"You didn't send for me just to tell me that?"
"In a way I did," replied Fugger. "I like a good man. I like to have him on my side."
"I'm working for Luke Miller."
"How much is he paying you?"
"Enough."
"I doubt that. He can't afford it. He's got $182 in the bank and he still owes over $60 on his shop equipment. His gross income last month was $314.50."
"You seem to know quite a lot of Mr. Miller's affairs."
"I make it my business to know everything. If Miller's paying you $25 a week, he's drawing down about $10 a week for himself."
"He's paying me only $20 a week."

Jacob Fugger snorted. "For a man of your caliber?"
"Mose Hudkins can set up more type than I can."
"A typesetter!" Fugger brushed it away. "Who's talking about setting up type? You beat Bill Bleek with your fists. No man has ever done that before. And they tell me you're a fancy man with a revolver, and that's something Bleek's no good with. I can use a man with your qualifications."
"To kill Luke Miller?"
Jacob Fugger actually chuckled. "You like to call a shovel. Good. So do I. I'm going to smash Luke Miller. I have to put him out of business because he's threatening my business. That's the long and the short of it. I've got to get rid of Miller. I'll kill him if I have to, but I'd rather not. I just want him to close up his newspaper. I want you to work for me and I'll pay you $50 a week."
"It's not enough."
"I pay Bleek only 40 a week. How much do you think you're worth?"
"I imagine you're a man, Mr. Fugger, who believes everyone has a price."

"Yes."
"You're probably right. I suppose I have my price, too. I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll leave Sage City tomorrow morning. Tancered paused, "if you will."
Fugger exclaimed angrily. "I made you an offer. I now withdraw that offer. Good night, Mr. Bailey!"
Sunday morning was quiet. Tancered was awake before daybreak, but remained in the print shop until almost 8. Then he had breakfast at the Bon Ton Cafe and stood for a little while outside the restaurant. The street was virtually deserted. A church bell tolled north of the Kansas & Western tracks and Tancered blinked. He had not known there was a church in Sage City.

He realized that he knew very little of what went on north of the tracks and decided to take a walk in that direction. It was like entering another world. He passed the church, a small, gray-painted frame building. Soberly dressed men and women who were wearing fine dresses were entering the building.

About 10:30 he walked to the Bon Ton Cafe and had a cup of coffee. When he came out Lee Kinnaird hailed him from across the street.

"Doing anything special?" Kinnaird asked as he came up.

"As a matter of fact, I'm having a hard time doing nothing," Tancered said.

"Then walk with me down there." He pointed to the south of town and Tancered, whose ears were becoming attuned to almost perpetual gunfire, realized that there was shooting out beyond the limits of Sage City.

"There's always a bunch of people out there on Sundays doing target shooting," said Kinnaird, "and now with the Texas men here we might see some fancy riding and roping."

They walked past the last house on the street to a stretch of flat prairie-land, where a dozen or more Texas men were showing off their skill with horses and the rawhide riatas they had brought with them. Off to one side another group of Texans were shooting at targets set up. Among the Texans were a few Northerners. As Kinnaird and Tancered came up, one of the latter, a man wearing a Prince Albert and a broad-based vest, was emptying a six-shooter at a board target, fully a hundred feet away. He hit the board each time.

"Put the target back a piece," he said.

A cowboy sprang for his horse standing nearby and galloped it to the target. Swinging down low on the right side of his horse, he grabbed up the board and carried it back another hundred feet or so. Then he stopped his horse and waved the board.

"Far enough?" he yelled.

The man in the Prince Albert gestured the horse back. "More!" he called.

Author of Safety

Article Dies in Accident

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Raymond Eastman, 30, author of a widely distributed safety article, "Ten Second to Live," died in a traffic accident.

Eastman and Peter James Jr., 27, both of Des Moines, died Sunday of injuries suffered when their car hit a concrete abutment on U. S. 6 east of Oakland, Iowa.

The accident occurred Saturday. They were rushed to Atlantic Hospital here where they died.

Eastman's article told of a man's thoughts during each of the 10 remaining seconds of his life as he drove along the highway. Toward the end of the article, there remained but one second to live, followed by an accident which killed the fictional character.

Illinois High School Football Practice Opens Next Monday

CHICAGO — High school football practice opens for more than 400 Illinois teams next Monday.

The Illinois High School Assn. said today its rules permit schools to issue equipment and arrange for physical examinations at an earlier date.

However, IHSA members may not organize their teams or practice before the Monday which precedes Labor Day.

Albert Willis, executive secretary of the IHSA, said about 370 IHSA schools will play 11-man football, 20 will engage in 8-man ball, and 30 will take part in 6-man ball.

Opening games may not be played any earlier than Sept. 17. Players must have 90 minutes of field practice for 14 days before the first inter-school game or scrimmage.

Easternmost point of Mexico, in the state of Quintana Roo, lies slightly east of Chicago.

Injury Forces Retirement of Native Dancer

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. — Native Dancer, the great "Gray Ghost of Sagamore" who captivated millions of racing fans and television viewers as he won all his races except the Kentucky Derby, will race no more.

Owner Alfred G. Vanderbilt, admitting sadly that he had "no other choice," today announced the retirement of his famous four-year-old colt because of recurrence of a bruise on his right front leg.

"There appears to be no choice but to retire him from racing," said Vanderbilt. "He will not race again and will enter the stud at Sagamore Farm in Maryland next spring."

Vanderbilt disclosed that the leg injury, which was first noticed after the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park on May 15, had showed up again Sunday morning after the fourth highest money winner in turf history had gone through his usual morning workout at the Saratoga track.

Bernie Everson, Native Dancer's regular exercise rider, had sent him through a mile-and-three-eighths run. When the workout had finished, Vanderbilt and trainer Bill Winfrey went into a hurried conference at which the retirement decision was reached.

Native Dancer, whose mottled gray face made him easy to spot both from the track grandstand and on a television screen, won 21 of his 22 races and probably was watched, thanks to television, by more persons than any other race horse in history.

He retires with total money earnings of $785,240 a sum completed last Monday when he won his final race, the betless Onondaga Handicap at Saratoga. The total is surpassed in turf history only by Citation with $1,085,760, Stymie with $918,485, and Armed with $817,475. All three had much longer careers than Native Dancer.

As a two-year-old, he won all of his nine races including the Youthful, Flash, Grand Union, Hopeful, Saratoga Special, and Belmont Futurity. As a three-year-old, he won two more before losing in the Derby. Then he won seven straight that year and three this year as a four-year-old. Among his other triumphs were the Preakness, Belmont Stakes, Withers, Travers, Arlington Classic, American Derby, and Metropolitan Mile. Like Man O'War, he won 'em all—except one.

Eldorado Merchants Defeat Cambria In 10 Innings, 8-7

The Eldorado Merchants defeated a strong Cambria team Sunday afternoon, 8-7 in ten innings, on the Raleigh town park diamond.

Eldorado scored twice in the second inning, then Cambria came back to knot the count with two runs in the fifth. Eldorado again counted two in the bottom of the fifth, to lead 4-2. The visitors made one in the sixth and Eldorado scored three in the last of the same frame, to take a 7-3 advantage.

Cambria scored three in the eighth and one in the ninth to tie the score at 7-7.

In the last of the ninth Bartnicki led off for Eldorado with a long triple, but the Cambria hurler retired the next three batters in a fine display of clutch pitching.

Cambria failed to count in the tenth and Eldorado won when Beasley led off with a walk and scored on a double by Flash Griffith.

Eldorado had eight runs on 13 hits and Cambria scored seven runs on 11 hits.

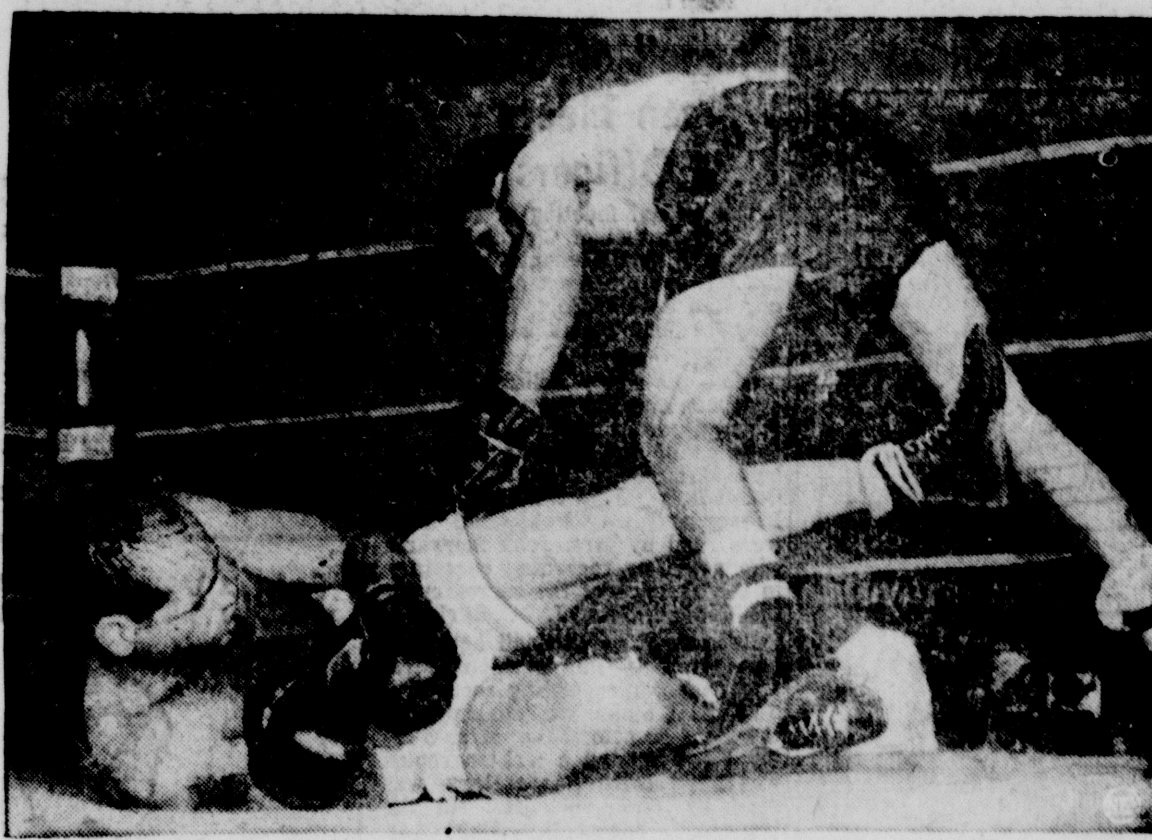

Woodard and Bartnicki hurled for the winners and Hartford caught. Bartnicki received the win. White pitched all the way for Cambria and Church was his receiver.

Flash Griffith had a triple, double and single in five tries, Bartnicki a triple and two singles, Thaxton and Hagan two hits each and Malone, Beasley and Woodard a hit each to round out the Eldorado attack.

Ethridge paced Cambria with three for four and "Itchy" Jones, Cambria shortstop, turned in a fine defensive game.

Eldorado will face the Harrisburg Merchants on the Harrisburg town park diamond next Sunday.

685 More Quail Released in County

A total of 685 quail was released on Saline county farms yesterday by the Harrisburg Dog and Gun club, making 1,500 quail released by the club in the county this summer.

The department of conservation of the State of Illinois gives the quail to the club when the birds are three days old and they are kept in holding pens at the Trammel building on North Jackson street until they are two months old. Then they are released.

Archie Dees Tells Family He Will Enroll at Indiana U.

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. — Archie Dees, the "Mr. Basketball" of high school stars, will enroll at Indiana University after being sought by many major schools.

Mrs. W. A. Dees said Saturday her son told his family of his decision in a telephone call from Huntington, W. Va., where he played in a charity basketball game. Dees then went to Florida on a vacation trip and could not be contacted for further comment.

The 6 foot, 8 inch center averaged 20.2 points in 29 games last season. He had told friends he wanted to play basketball in the Big Ten conference and narrowed his choice to Indiana, Northwestern and Illinois.

Dees won his title of "Mr. Basketball" in the North-South high school all-star basketball game at Murray, Ky., in June. He set a scoring record of 32 points in the prep all-star game.

The towering center scored 46 points against Mounds Douglas in an Illinois high school sectional tournament last spring and scored 49 or more points in four games last season.

Gibbs, Hosick and Hancock Each Win 2 Stock Car Events

Glen Gibbs, Bill Hosick and Henry Hancock each captured two first places in the stock car racing program at the Saline County Speedway Saturday night.

Gibbs took the time trials and a heat race, Hosick a heat race and the semi-feature and Hancock was first in the handicap and feature.

The track was in good shape, considering the heavy rains during the early morning hours Saturday. The most exciting flip of the entire program came in the feature, when Boss Vineyard and the 00 slid high on the east curve, turned completely over, landing on all four wheels. Vineyard climbed out unhurt.

Results: time trials, Glen Gibbs in the 97, Howard Meachum in the E17 and Bob Mayne in the P410. Time, 19.35.

First heat, Glen Gibbs, Henry Hancock in the K7 and Boss Vineyard in the 00.

Second heat, Tom Storey in the 13Jr. Bunny Bundren in the FS1 and Floyd Barnes in the HG2.

Third heat, Boss Vineyard, Mitch Parker in the 80 and Bill Hosick in the 105.

Fourth heat, Bill Hosick, Floyd Barnes and Bunny Bundren. Handicap, Henry Hancock, Boss Vineyard and Tom Storey.

Palace Wins Playoff in Kitty League

The Palace Clothing House team has won the playoff series in the Kitty league and has earned the right to play the 3A for the Kitty league title.

After disposing of James Bros. Friday in one playoff game, Palace came out on the long end of a five inning game Saturday which was halted by rain with the score 11-5.

The Palace nine wasted no time in showing Turner's why it should be the team to play 3A for the league title. After scoring three in the first to Turner's one, they came back with four in the second and one in the third while Turner's came up with four in the third to close the gap, 8-5.

Palace came back with three more in the fourth while holding Turner's scoreless in the fourth and fifth, to win 11-5.

Henshaw allowed Turner's five runs on three hits while Palace collected 11 runs on seven hits off Maszaros and Ramsey.

Henshaw with one for one, a triple, and Vinson, three for four, one a triple, were hitting stars for Palace, while Ramsey, Carnett and Kihlmire collected the three hits for Turner's. Catching for Palace was Rauh and for Turner's, Jahn.

Cairo Man Wins Benton Gold Cup Golf Tournament

Shooting a sensational 10 under par to tie the course record, Bob Keller of Cairo won the Benton Gold Cup tournament yesterday with a 36 hole score of 134. This was his second straight victory in the annual meet and a third win will give him permanent possession of the gold cup.

The tourney is an annual event of the Benton Country club and draws amateur players from many parts of the country. In yesterday's match players were entered from Miami, Fla., St. Louis, Mo., Alton, Springfield, Cairo and from most of the Southern Illinois clubs.

J. Mitchell from West Frankfort took second place, shooting a 137, and J. Evans of St. Louis took third with a 141. Evans is a long ball hitter who went to the semi-finals in the U. S. National Public Links championship. Fourth place was won by Percy Pipes, Mt. Vernon, with 142, and fifth by F. Maloney, St. Louis, 143.

Dr. Chas. Elder of Eldorado was low Benton club player with a 146. Prizes were awarded the first five players, then to the 10th, 15th, 20th, 25th, 30th, 35th, 40th, 45th, 50th. Fiftieth place award was a Benrus watch won by Frank Malpoeker of Benton.

There were 70 players entered in the tournament and there was much interest with a gallery following the top threesome.

Kuharich Takes Over As Coach Of Pro Redskins

DETROIT — Big Joe Kuharich took over as the new head coach of the Washington Redskins today replacing Curly Lambeau, who reportedly was fired after a hot dispute with Redskins' owner George Preston Marshall.

Kuharich, ex-Navy, a Dame star who formerly coached the Chicago Cardinals, was slated to make his first public appearance as the Redskins' mentor today at a practice preparing for Tuesday night's exhibition game against the Detroit Lions.

The appointment of Kuharich was announced by Dick McCann, general manager of the National Football League team. But McCann refused to outline the reason for Lambeau's sudden and surprising departure.

"I don't know that he has been fired," said McCann. "All I know is that Kuharich is now the head coach of the Redskins. We held our first squad meeting under him upon arriving here last night."

It was reported that Lambeau and Marshall had a bitter dispute in a hotel lobby in Sacramento, Calif., early Sunday after the Redskins had taken a 30-7 beating from the San Francisco Forty-Niners in a Saturday night exhibition game. A Pacific Coast League baseball player said that he saw the two men shove each other during the argument.

When the Redskins left by plane to come here Sunday, Lambeau stayed behind. Reports that he was "out" sprang up immediately and were confirmed by McCann after the team arrived here.

In Sacramento, Lambeau refused point-blank to say whether he had been fired and refused even to confirm that he had an "altercation" with Marshall.

McCann had nothing to do with the loss to the Forty-Niners.

Nash Clubs Out 32-6 Victory Over Stonefort

The Nash baseball club, hitting often and hard and running wild on the bases, ran up a 32-6 victory over Stonefort Sunday afternoon. It marked the 12th win of the season for Nash and its fifth in a row.

K. Nolen, Karnes, Bledig and Harrison each banged out four hits for Nash; Ziegler and Sisky had three each; Fulkerson and Parker each had a couple and Shevmake one.

Combined with the 27 hits were 12 bases on balls and 23 stolen bases. While his teammates were rolling up their biggest offensive of the year, Parker was pitching a tight 5-hit game and retired four Stonefort hitters on strikes.

During the first eight innings Parker was touched off for just one hit and was leading 32-1 going into the ninth, when he eased up and was nicked for four blows, which coupled with two errors allowed four runs. Bledig was behind the plate for Nash.

Hitting for Stonefort were Gully, Partain, Logsdon, Murphy and Redwine. Gans, Miller, Trammel and Hill shared mound duties for Stonefort, with Redwine the catcher.

Nash will play at Stonefort again Thursday afternoon during the reunion and Sunday will travel to Carterville to meet the All Stars of that city. In a previous encounter, Carterville outslugged Nash, 17-13.

Nash players will practice Wednesday and Friday, starting at 5 p. m.

Indians Win as Yankees Lose Third Straight to Red Sox; Dodgers Drop Two to Phils

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Twenty shaped up today as the "magic number" which will put the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants in the richest World Series of all time.

It's not a mathematical certainty, of course, but that's the hand-writing on the wall with the Indians rolling 5 1-2 games ahead of the collapsing New York Yankees and the Giants leading the reeling Brooklyn Dodgers by four lengths. A Cleveland-New York series would be worth a record $10,000 for each team having the largest because each team has the largest seating capacity in its league.

The Indians signalled the end of the Yankees' five-year reign when they routed the Baltimore Orioles, 12-1, Sunday while the "old champs" blew a third straight decision to the Boston Red Sox, 8-2. The Giants, meanwhile, took a struggle hold on the National League lead by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4 and 5-3, while the Philadelphia Phillies scored 6-2 and 6-0 triumphs over the Dodgers. Indians Have Advantage

As a result, the red-hot front-runners found themselves in this position:

Twenty victories in their remaining 32 games, a mere 625 pace, would give the Indians a season's total of 108 wins. To beat that total, the Yankees would have to win 26 of their 31 games—a fantastic 839 pace.

By winning only 20 of their remaining 34 contests, a 588 pace, the Giants would wind up with 96 triumphs—a total which the Dodgers could exceed only by trailing at a 750 clip with 24 wins in their last 32 games.

The Indians now have won 16 of their last 18 games and can tie the American league record set by the 1927 Yankees by winning 22 of their last 32 games for a season total of 110.

Williams Paces Attack

Terrible Ted Williams drove in four runs with his 23rd homer, a double and a single and also chucked off a seventh-inning threat with a back-handed catch to lead the Red Sox to their third straight win over the Yankees. It was the first time this season that the Yankees lost three straight games.

Pinch-hitter Bill Taylor's bases-filled, ninth-inning single provided the Giants with their winning run in the opener and knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm won the nightcap with 4 2-3 innings of hitless relief pitching. The Pirates made things easy for the Giants with sloppy defense behind Paul LaPalme's fine pitching in the first game and committed four errors in the second game.

Del Ennis hit a three-run homer in each game as the Phillies got eight hits, including single from Herman Webbeier in the opener and sixth-inning hurling from Murry Dickson in the nightcap.

Stan Musial hit two doubles to pull within one percentage point

Council of Church Women Elects New Officers

The annual meeting of the Harrisburg Council of Church Women was held at the country home of the retiring president of the Council, Mrs. Joseph Hart, Friday evening, beginning with a family picnic supper.

After the many delicious dishes had been enjoyed the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hart and minutes of the regular meetings held throughout the year, World Community Day, World Day of Prayer and May Fellowship Day, were read by Mrs. John Schwartz who acted as recording secretary in the absence of the secretary of the Council, Mrs. J. M. Burley.

Reports of the Council activities were given by the president, Mrs. Hart, the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Zola Sloan, the chairman of the Finance committee, Mrs. Ownley Furman, and a written report by the recording secretary was read by Mrs. Schwartz. In the president's report Mrs. Hart mentioned as outstanding among the year's achievements the 131 pounds of articles sent through Church World Service as a part of the observance of World Community Day. These consisted of articles for the home, linens, etc. and clothing. During the year, also, 23 pounds of used nylon stockings were sent to Japan, to be re-woven by Japanese women, thus giving employment to a number of people.

The Nominating committee in its report presented the names of the following people for offices that were to be filled for the coming year, and they were unanimously elected. Miss Bess Pemberton is the incoming president, Mrs. John Schwartz, first vice president, Mrs. J. A. Dickerson, recording secretary, and Mrs. Muriel Holland, treasurer.

The installation service was given by Mrs. D. H. Hiller, who likened the Council to a ship that is setting sail for a twelve-month voyage, with the newly elected officers in command of the ship. She spoke of the duties of each, and in closing charged that they keep always close to their great Pilot, Jesus Christ, who could still any storm and guide their ship on a straight course.

State Fair Closes; Attendance Over Million

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Workmen dismantled exhibits and tents at the Illinois State Fairgrounds today after a final weekend which pushed 1954 attendance at the fair over the million mark.

General Manager Strother G. Jones estimated the closing day crowd Sunday at 40,000, raising the total for the 10-day run to 1,005,000. This compared with 1,100,000 in 1953.

Biggest crowd was the 225,000 who showed up Thursday, the day President Eisenhower visited the fair. Poor weather was blamed for cutting down the turnout on several other days.

The famous 31-man Lewis and Clark westward expedition experienced only one death, from a bilious colic, not wild animals or Indians.

Applies First Aid to Stop Bleeding Of Accident Victim

Robert Coseboon of 228 South Ledford street probably saved the life of a man on a highway following a three-car accident north of Lawrenceville recently.

Coseboon applied first aid to Robert Stangle, St. Francisville, who was bleeding to death following the loss of his arm in the accident. The local man took off his shirt, tearing it up to make a tourniquet which he used to stop the bleeding.
